

About Me

Settle without Settling...

Born and raised in Melbourne's West, Celeste will have as much love for your home as you do.

Celeste joined Burnham Real Estate as a sales assistant while she simultaneously completed her Agent's Representative Course and undergraduate degree in public relations.

Her passion for the industry and natural flare for the role, has seen her cement herself as a confident and successful sales agent within the company.

She has unmatched communication skills acquired through her studies and various communication roles in consumer-based businesses. She prides herself on her ability to successfully curate individualised marketing campaigns for each property. She is able to bring fresh strategies and an honest, reliable and empathetic approach to sales, allowing for optimal results for both vendors and buyers. Celeste's attention to detail and ability to negotiate is what sets her apart.

These experiences have moulded her dynamic, energetic and enthusiastic personality, allowing her to effectively connect with first homebuyers, young professionals and new investors, the primary buyers of property in Melbourne's Inner West.

"Celeste was absolutely incredible to work with!! Not only did she get the price we wanted, she also went out of her way to make sure we were comfortable every step of the journey. Celeste is an excellent communicator, very knowledgeable and has such an approachable personality. Truly a 5-star agent!"

- Seller of a townhouse in Maidstone

BURNHAM